“Local Business Coach Helping Queensland Business Owners Get Back On Their Feet”

A local Business Coach turned entrepreneur is helping with answers to the current flood damaged businesses in Queensland.

Being so many kilometres away from the disaster area sometimes leaves a feeling of frustration when it comes to wanting to support the flood victims. Donations of money can be sent which will help with the materialistic items that are needed. Fay McLean has joined together with her colleagues from other states to form the “Business Comeback Team” helping Queensland businesses get back on their feet.

As business owners we spend our time, enthusiasm, money and put our hearts and souls into building our businesses and to have them taken away by an act of nature is heart breaking for anyone in business to see. The Business Comeback Team has been formed to create a register of business service providers that can help the QLD business owner get back on their feet and start again once the clean up has begun.

Fay McLean will be providing services in the areas of Business Coaching, Website, Online and Offline Marketing and Social Media. “We really want to offer all these services for FREE to get these people back in their businesses and making good income again. This is no ‘quick fix’ and I want to be there to support these people in the long term to restore their livelihoods.”

“It is so hard today with everybody working long hours, increased stress and commitments, to know what to do to get re-established with increased efficiency.”

Mrs McLean and her husband Murray also have a personal interest in the Brisbane floods as they own two properties in Brisbane which were fortunately just outside of the flood damaged area.

“The problem is that many people in Queensland have purchased existing businesses and it is often difficult to know where to start when they need to get things going again from the ground up.” There is going to be different things to factor into business now, that were not in the community before the floods. Mrs McLean said.

Mrs McLean is passionate about helping to educate and inspire people into transforming their business to be more profitable without having to work long demanding hours.

As Founder of her current Company, Mrs McLean devised The Client Building Blueprint which is simple but super effective step-by-step business and marketing strategies. She’s proven it time and again with existing clients from those in hospitality, animal care, accounting, counsellors and home care. She now spends time constantly travelling across Australia and overseas sharing this system with small business owners.

"With an entrepreneurial background even as a child, I started my first business in my early twenties and have had several successful enterprises since as well as several years spent in Executive Management of a multimillion dollar business. The past four years have been spent studying intensively with many of the world's leaders in business and marketing." Mrs McLean said.

After years of seeing people go into business for the purpose of creating a better life for themselves, and then finding nothing but struggle, long hours and lack of free time, Mrs McLean now devotes her business to helping others achieve a balance between profitability in business and time to enjoy their lifestyle.
